The screenshot shows the homepage of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO). The browser address bar displays <https://www.iso.org/home.html>. The page features the ISO logo (a red square with a white globe icon and the letters 'ISO') and the text 'International Organization for Standardization' and 'When the world agrees'. A navigation bar includes links for 'Standards', 'All about ISO', 'Taking part', and 'Store', along with a search bar. The main banner image shows a close-up of a metal pipe with water spraying out, overlaid with the text 'Water for development' and 'ISOfocus makes a splash for a better world'. At the bottom, a text block reads: 'We're ISO, the International Organization for Standardization. We develop and publish International Standards.' On the right, there is a call to action for the 'ISO Store' with the text 'Are you looking to buy an ISO Standard?' and a 'Visit our store' button.
